DEDICATION

R.

CLAYTON LEWIS

The students of Chowan College are pleased to dedicate THE CHOWANOKA to a person who is genuinely interested in their welfare and in the total life of the institution. Throughout his seventeen years at the college, he has given unselfishly of his time and energies to promote the development of students as whole persons, realizing that social, physical, spiritual, and intellectual elements of the personality are joined inextricably. He recognizes each student as a unique personality with worth and potential for growth and development. He encourages each student to develop his innate abilities to the maximum extent possible.

For his friendship, his time, his energies, his concern, and his support, the students of Chowan College gratefully dedicate the 1985 CHOWANOKA to Dean of Students

R. CLAYTON LEWIS

One nught a man hiad a dream. He dreamed he whes walking along the beath with the Lord. Across the sk' flashad scencs from his lite. For cach scenc. he notiked two sets of footprints in the sand, one belonging to him. and the other to the Lord.
'71'then the last seme of hus lite thastided betore hum, he looked buik at the footprints in the sand. He notied that mann' times alomg the paith of fis lite there was only one set of tootprints the ako noticed that it happended at the very lowest and saddest times in his life.

This realh, bothered fum and he questioned the Lord about it. "Lord. 1ou sald that onee 1 decided to follow' 1ou, wou'd walk with me all the way'. 'But I fave noticed that during the most troublesome tumes of my life, thete as ondr one sat of footprints. ? don't understand why whan 7 meded fou most you would lave me."
'The' Lord replucd. "?/v' precwus, prectus child. 9 Wove bou and would new leave lou IDurnu four times of tral and sufforing. When lou see ondy one set of footpronts. it was then that I' carried you."

"Chowan? I thought this was the Elk's Club!'"

"I'm late for class."

"Of course I'd rather be here than at the Pub."

"Hello, Milton's Pizza? I'd like 5 pepperoni pizzas, 3 sausage, 2 baked potatoes and hold on let me see what my friends want.

Today's dreams . .

tomorrow's realities

Several years ago, Chowan's admissions office promoted the theme, "Chowan College.. Where Dreams Come True." After 28 years of associating with Chowan's students, I firmly believe this slogan to be true.

This is also expressed in the theme of the 1985 edition of The Chowanoka."Today's Dreams...Tomorrow's Realities."

I believe that each Chowan student has a dream. He, or she, has selected Chowan to realize that dream. But it's not automatic-one must work hard and apply himself in the classroom and in this studies and take advantage of opportunities for intellectual growth.

And where are the dreamers of yesterday. What have these former Chowan students achieved? You no doubt have heard of Nate McMillan. His dream was to play in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He applied himself during his two years at Chowan, both in the classroom and on the court. Today he is a starter on North Carolina State's basketball team. Names of other former Chowan atheletes come to mind...David Green ' 75 (Cleveland Browns), Jerry Holmes ' 78 (formerly with New York Jets and now with the New Jersey Generals), Jody Shulz " 80 (Philadelphia Eagles), Robert Brown ' 80 (Green Bay Packers). Did they have a dream when they were Chowan students? You can bet they did!

Other students had different dreams. And what have they achieved Darlene Keene ' 81 is a freshmen in the East Carolina University Medical School. Joseph Andrade '75 is a medical doctor. Barry Sowell '78 is a hospital administrator. Randy Britton 60 is Vice President and General Nanager of Carolina Aluminum Company in Winton. He reports his dreams were nourished at Chowan by his professors and administrators and that Chowan gave him the chance he needed to climb the business ladder of success. Dreams do take shape at Chowan in an atmosphere where your professors and staff members want their students to succeed and where they share their dreams to be writers and teachers. lawyers, pastors, doctors, printers, artists, photographers, professional atheletes, computer whizzes, and on and on we could go. Your dreams at Chowan will become realities.

We wish you the best, both now and in the future, and leave you with this thought: "In dreams begins responsibility." Responsibility (1914), epigraph (from an old play).

Homecoming

Homecoming was held October 27. The festivities included the parade and bonfire Thursday evening. Friday was the tailgate party. Saturday morning was Band Day and also the dorm decoration contest was held. The game started at $2: 00$ p.m. with the Braves defeating Potomac State, 33-0. Saturday night was the dance featuring Ready Mix.

Miss Jill Wells, of Forest City, NC was crowned 1984 Homecoming Queen, with Miss Kris McKay, of Morehead City, as Princess.
The week was a success and will long be remembered by all who participated.

Choosing contestants for the Homecoming Court is not an easy task. First, each dorm and the Day Student Organization must choose one freshman and one sophomore as candidates for the court. The candidates are then introduced to the the student body at assembly. After this the student body votes for one freshman and one sophomore. Canidates are choosen from the original 14 to form the homecoming court.

The winners are announced at half-time during the homeconiung game.

The 1984 Homecoming Queen was Jill Wells from Forest City, N.C., representing Belk Hall. The Freshman Princess was Kris McKay of Morehead City who also represented Belk Hall.

Weekend Activities

108 Miscellameons

In October 1984, 152 people showed their love and concern for others by donating blood. They gave the gift of life itself. Fright, anxiety, shy smiles, and a sense of relief showed on the faces of those people who bought their fears and gave hlood for the first time. Other brave souls were donating blood for the second or third time. Everyone involved seemed to agree that giving blood was a rewarding experience.

Several steps are required in giving the "gift of life". Beginning with the completion of necessary forms, temperatures are then checked belore the nurse comes to begin the "needle work".

Fall Play

DePinna takes advantage of an interlude in the painting of his portrait to read the daily "scratch sheet." Meanwhile, ballet instructor, Boris Kolenkhov (Michael Hewitt), prepares to guide his prime ballerina, Essie (Terri-AnnJohnson), through the first movement of "Scheherazade," to the xylophone accompaniment of Essie's husband, Ed \{Ricky Kilian).

Alice tries to convince Tony that Mr. Kirby (Scott Canfield) is right in declaring that a marriage between the two of them cannot work. Alice's father. Paul Sycamore (Joel McLendon), and Grandpa Vanderhof (Hargus Taylor) express momentary dismay at this turn in romantic events.

Tony Kirby (Langston Tugwell) and Alice (Sonya Savage) bid goodbye to the Vanderhof household as they leave for an evening at the "Monte Carlo Ballet. ${ }^{\prime}$

Resuming her former craft as an artist, Penny observes that her favorite model, Mr. DePinna (Jim Shepard), appears to have added a few pounds to the mid-section since she first began, some years earlier, to paint him as the "Roman Discus Thrower."

As the curtain closes on scene 1 of You Can't Take It W'ith You, Grandpa Vanderhof leads the "family circle" in a prayer of thanksgiving prior to eating the evening meal, Seated, I to r: Mr. Kolenkhov (Michael Hewitt), Paul Sycamore (Joel McLendon), Penny Sycamore (Joyce Elliott), Essie (Terri-Ann Johnson), Ed (Ricky Kilian), and Mr. DePinna (Jim Shepard\}.

Zany Comedy as Fall Production

YOU CAN 'T' TAKE IT WITH YOU, a zany comedy from the post depression 30 's by Moss Hart and George Kaufmınn, was presented during the fall semester.

This rollicking comedy features the Sycamore family, who has given up work to do things they genuinely enjoy. The fun begins when we find Grandpa collecting snakes and going to commencements, and daughter Penny painting because she enjoys it and writing plays because a typewriter was delivered by mistake. It continues through dance lessons with clumsy Essie and fireworks creations by father, Paul.

The plot thickens when granddaughter, Alice, the only "reasonable" member of the family, falls in love with Tony, of the wealthy and influential Kirby family. The Kirbys, being opposites of the Sycamores in their work ethic committment, are opposed to the marriage. When the Kirbys come to dinner at the Sycamores, on the wrong night, the fun really gets underway.

This production, under the direction of Sandra Boyce, featured Dr. Joyce Elliott, professor of speech, in the role of Penny Sycamore. Elliott has considerable acting experience, having appeared as Nurse Casey in the popular daytime drama, "Search for Tommorrow." She has also done numerous television commercials and summer stock engagements.

The return to the stage of Chaplain Hargus Taylor as Grandpa, and Michael Hewitt as Kolenkhov, the ballet teacher, added to the delight to this production.

Other featured roles included Alice played by Sonya Savage, a freshman from Goldsboro; her sister Essie played by Terri-Anne Johnson of Franklin, Va.; Paul Sycamore played by freshman Joel McLendon of Elizabeth City; the boyfriend, Tony played by Langston Tugwell, a sophomore from Springfield, Va., and his father, Anthony Kirby portrayed by Scott Canfield, a sophomore from Burlington, Vt.

SPRING PLAY

Mrs. Sandra Boyce, left, gives instruction for the set construction of "Li'l Abner".

Li'l Abner began as a daily comic strip on August 20, 1934, in which Li'l Abner Yokum was deputed as a 1934 Kentucky Hillbilly. Readers were delighted, too, with the antics of Abner's "mammy", Pansy Yokum, her browbeaten husband, and the rednosed, pompous-bellied Marryin' Sam. Unrelentingly pursued by the romantic Daisy Mae, Abner tries to remain just out of her grasp.
The prompt fame of Li 'l Abner put it on the front pages of Sunday comic sections across the nation by the late 1930's and led to a filming of the strip by RKO Studios in 1940. It was later produced as a major Broadway musical comedy in 1957, featuring such stars as Julie Newmar, Stubby Kaye, and Jerry Lewis.

42nd STREET

As you enter New York, your first glimpse of the city is the Manhattan skyline.

New Ye ik in motion!

A majestic view in the heart of Central Park.

The Annual Art Club New York Trip was taken November 7-11, 1984. The long bus ride seemed never ending but it was worth it once we arrived for the experienced New, York traveler, it was a chance to visit their favorite spots in the city. For the firsttime visitors, it was an overwhelming experience. There was so much to see and so little time! Broadway, Statue of Liberty, Staten Island Ferry, Chinatown, Macy's, and The Empire State Building were a few of the main spots of interest. Of all the cities of the world, New York has everything you would want to do and more. After the hustle and bustle of New York, we welcomed peace and quiet of Murfreesboro.

The 1984 Spring Festival activities were held on center campus, and last year's court is photographed following introductions to the audience. The ' 84 festival was held in beautiful spring weather with a large crowd in attendance. Due to publication deadlines for THE CHOWANOKA, an announcement as to the selection of the 1985 Spring Festival Queen and Princess was not possible.

Pizzazz is an all-male organization which strives for unity and public recognition. The organization was established in an effort to improve the self-esteem of individual members while preparing them for future participation in fraternities and campus organizations of senior institutions. Pizzazz emphasizes good study habits and maintaining good academic grades. The group also stresses the attributes of zest, style, glamour, smartness and sparkle. Pizzazz sponsors many activities on campus and the organization is a frequent support of other campus activities and athletic events.

Parents were welcomed to the campus by a large sign prepared by the club.

The Pizzazz group, dressed in the club sweaters, participated in the annual Homecoming Parade.

ASSEMBLY

Students listen to the speaker during Fall Convocation.

Assemblies play an important roll in student life. Each Monday, freshmen attend assemblies in Turner Auditorium while the sophomores attend assembly on Wednesdays.
Each week, new speakers are invited to talk to students on various subjects. Also, assemblies serve as a source of information for upcoming activities. Chaplain Taylor is responsible for setting up the assembly programs each week.

Professors honored tor 25 years ot service.

Intramurals

At the beginning of the fall semester, each dormitory selects a representative from each floor to act as a unit manager for intramural sports. Students are encouraged by their unit managers to participate in such sports as basketball, football, racquetball, weightlifting, volleyball, and swimming, just to name a few. Intramural sports creates competative, but fun extracurricular activities in which all students may participate. The winners of the sporting events receive t-shirts as well as points for the President's Cup competition.

Students involved in intramural weightlitting take a break from their vigorous work out.

Boy, l'll be glad when intramural baseball hegins!

Snack Bar

The Snack Bar is one of the favorite spots on campus for students, and they all agree that it is a place to get good food at a reasonable price. Students also use the Snack Bar to view television, study, or just sit and relax. During the day, commuting students always gather to discuss the happenings of the day and prepare for their next classes.

Hot dogs and fries are a popular "between class snack" as friends gather to catch up on the latest campus gossip.

Pauline Deloatch takes another order for "Brave Burgers" and french fries!

Cindy Pike and Sheri Light spend much time in the snack bar and each says that it is one of their favorite places on campus.

CAFETERIA

Helms Center

The Helms Physical Education Center was completed in 1980, and houses the Department of Health and Physical Education. The building contains three basketball courts, three handball courts, a weight room, training room, two classrooms, a minigym, locker rooms, offices and an indoor swimming pool. In addition to physical education instruction, intramural games and varsity contests, the center is used as a recreational facility by the students, faculty and townspeople. The center is open for recreation at nights and weekends and provides a place for wholesome fun and enjoyment.

The weight room is a popular place as many students try to "get in shape" or to lose a few pounds!

Intramural basketball is one of the many contests played in the center, and the courts also serve for recreational play.

Students save their quarters tor the video games.

Many students enjoy playing ping pong.

Lakeside Student Center

Lakeside Student Center is a place of constant activity where you can always find something to do. The Student Center offers skating. pool, ping-pong, video games and a large screen TV, This building also houses the campus mail-room which is visted faithfully in expectation of letters from home. Whenever you need a place to relax and have fun, make a trip to the Student Center.

Today's dreams

If you have noticed the maintenance men and eonstruetion workers hard at work it is because Chowan is updating many of its faeilities. Green Hall takes on a whole new look as two classrooms, 2 office studios. and a sculpture studio along with a whole new front have been added.

Whitaker Library is expanding to the floor level which will increase the floor space by $40^{\circ}$ \% for additional volumes.

Simons and Jenkins Halls will be completely renovated. Each will have carpet. air conditioning and cable T.V.

A golf driving range will be put in for reereation and P.E. classes.

These projects will truly enhance the beauty of Chowan College.

The facility, formerly used by graphic communications faculty, received new air conditioning and heating systems, as well as new interior walls and ceilings and was divided into various classrooms and laboratories. Students majoring in Computer Programming, Data Entry, Information Processing or Word Processing spend many hours of the day in McSweeney Hall. Word Processing is one of the newer courses being offered this year by the Department of Business, which operates the Computer Center. In addition, beginning typewriting is now being taught by use of the computers, and allows students to learn how to type without having to correct all mistakes on paper!

The President's Cup

The President's Cup is an honor that all domitories and the day student organization strive for. The honor is awarded at the end of the year to the dorm or day students based on academics, intramurals, attendance to college sponsored events and dorm programs. Each person strives to do his part in each of these categories so that his group will win.

What is an SAR?

The Student Admissions Representatives, often called SARs, are students voluntarily working with the Office of Admissions to assist in hosting prospective students and their parents on campus. The SARs conduct individual campus tours and serve as group guides on special "preview days" when large groups of prospective students visit Chowan College. Working without renumeration and under the guidance of admissions counselors, the group spends many hours assisting the college in this special way.

A good number of Chowan College students consider volunteer duty in the Town of Murfreesboro a vital part of extracurricular activities, and spend many long hours in training and participation with the Murfreesboro Rescue Squad. Several students completed a class on vehicle rescue tactics during the spring semester which was required of all regular members of the group. This class, and many others related to first aid, is taught on a regular basis with Chowan students in attendance. The students testify that learning to help others and to save lives is a vital part of their total education, and they give their time freely to this valuable volunteer effort.

Braves Post Another  Winning Football Season

Coach Jim Garrison's team ended the 1984 season with a $6-4$ overall record, while being $4-2$ in Coastal Conference play. Thirteen players were selected to represent Chowan in the All-Star game. Mark Wells, Kevin Whipp and Bobby Wright were chosen as first team All-Conference players, as well as being an All-Region selection with four other Brave teammates. As for team honors, Brian Phillips received the Most Outstanding Offensive Back award and for the defensive backs it was presented to Milton Gore. Whipp and Larry Boone were chosen as the Most Outstanding Offensive and Defensive Linemen, while Wells, team's leading scorer, was given the Receiving Award. Clifton Waters received the Most Outstanding Special Teams Honor.
The Braves opened the season by sinking the ships at Newport News Apprentice with a come-from-behind win, 32-21.
Tight end Mark Wells caught a 12- yard touchdown pass from Brian Phillips to help Chowan edge ECU JVs 7-3. Maurice Phelps gained 90 yards for the Braves in the second game of the sea son.
Chowan trounced Hudson Valley by defeating them $37-0$, in game number three. Wells led the scoring with two

TD catches, one from Phillips and the other one from Lonnie Mister. Phelps, Tim Greene and Henry Poole also added touchdowns for the Braves.
Defensive end Thomas Squires led the defense with 10 unassisted tackles, 10 assists and two quarterback sacks in aiding the Braves to their fourth consecutive win of the season over Lees-McRae, 21-7. As for the offense, Miles Gray rushed for 105 yards on 10 carries with one touchdown
Chowan suffered two heartbreaking loses to a nonconference JMU JV team, 24-21, and arch-rival Ferrum College, 14-6.
The Braves bounced back by shutting out Wesley 28-0.
The Braves took the field on a warm, sunny Saturday afternoon against Potomac State for Homecoming. The team gave the returning alumni a show by scalping the visitors 33-0.
The final two games were disappointing for the Braves. A cold Saturday afternoon caused Chowan some problems as they droppped their final Conference game to Nassau 28-14. ECU JVs got revenge as they defeated the Braves $23-19$ on the final game of the season.

Tracy Battle got the tip-off as the Braves met arch-rival Ferrum for the last time. The game was played before a "packed house" of Chowan fans.

A tradition lives on.... as the court was covered with toilet paper immediately following the first basket in the Chowan-Ferrum game. The referees were "understanding" of the demonstration and did not call technical fouls for the paper throwing. However, several pleas from the athletic director were necessary before the spectators stopped the "White streamers".

School spirit was at a high level at all home games of the 1984-85 season, with students crowding their section of Helms Center to watch basketball action. The Braves' contests also drew many townspeople, and many coaches and scouts from senior colleges and universities were on hand to observe various Chowan players as prospects for senior college play.

Coach Bob Burke uses every available second to instruct his team and guide them to victory. The coach's instructions paid off, indeed, for the f3raves were undefeated in Helms Center for the second straight year.

Jerome Cooper, a standout of the '84-85 Braves, fights for a rebound. Cooper was a leader in defense as well as offense and was descriłed by several visiting coaches as a "real scrapper" under the basket.

Kenny Reynolds, 40, and Rob James, 30, move quickly to the basket following an outside shot by Greg Hollingsworth.

A "slam dunk" for the Braves, as Jim Dillard scores two points for the Braves during the Hardees' Classic. The "dunks", which were numerous, always brought thundering cheers from the packed spectator sections.

Tracy Battle, 45, led the team to victory on many occasions and is shown as he scores another basket for Chowan.

A familiar scene on the sidelines of the Braves' games was Coach Bob Burke, who constantly paced the bench to give both verbal and visual instructions to the team.

Greg Hollingsworth, 21, rushes to trap a Ferrum player in the last contest between the Braves and the Panthers. Hollingsworth was a "spark plug" for the team, and gave numerous performances of ball-handling skills and outside shooting.

Assistant coach Kenny Bunker checks with the official scorers to make sure that his team has two time-outs remaining.

Greg Hollingsworth, the Braves' quick point guard, brings the ball up court with the help of Rob James.

The referee calls a foul while Tracy Battle sinks a basket for the beginning of a three-point play during the Hardees Classic.

Jerome Cooper, a "power man" for the Braves, takes an inbounds pass and prepares to zip it to Tracy Battle for a Braves basket.

The "blue seat" section of Helms Center was filled for almost every Chowan game in Helms Center, and a regular spectator and one of the Braves, strongest supporters was Jane Burke, wife of the head coach.

The quickness of the team was outstanding, and after each opponent score, the Braves were ready to get the points back.

Clifton Lynch makes a steal during the Brave-Ferrum game and takes the ball down court.

Three Braves take control of the "paint area" and get ready to take possession of a rebound.

Jim Dillard waits patiently for the ball from the referee to begin more fast-action play.

The Braves and Ferrum's Panthers get ready to fight for a rebound in the last meeting of the two teams.

Nembers of the team watch every movement of teammates on the court. One of the strengths of the Braves is the depth of the bench.

The cheerleaders did an outstanding job at each game of the Braves, and added much enthusiasm and excitement to the contests.

The stands were usually packed for the Chowan baskethall games, with residents of various residence halls forming groups to cheer the Braves to victory.

Braves Post 27-4 Record Conference Championship

1984-85 was another banner year for men's basketball at Chowan as the Braves posted a very impressive $27-4$ record-including the Eastern Tarheel Conference title and the Eastern Tarheel Tournament Title-en route to their eighth consecutive appearance in the annual Region X Tournament of the National Junior College Athletic Association. However, hopes for retaining their Region X title and earning a repeat appearance in the NJCAA Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas, were dashed when the team was upset by LeesMcRae College in the opening round of Region X play, 54-53.

Despite a succession of injuries to key members of the squad throughout the year, the Braves reached post-season play having lost only one game to a Region X opponent, having been ranked as high as 3rd among the nation's junior colleges, and claiming trophies as winners of the prestigious Hardees Classic ( r urfreesboro) and the Coca-Cola (Anderson, South Carolina). The sharpshooting of Greg Hollingsworth (17.2 pts. per game) and the strong inside play of Tracy Battle ( 14.2 pts. and 9.1 rebounds per game) delighted Braves fans, and rated the review of numerous Division I scouts looking to strengthen their basketball programs.

Fellow-sophomores Jerome Cooper, Jim Dillard, Rob James, Clifton Lynch, and Mike Moore added strength and stability to the squad, while earning their share of attention and praise for stellar team play. Moreover, the contributions of freshman stand-out Kenny Reynolds ( 9.9 pts. and 7.4 rebounds per game) and of "reserves" Bruce Church, John Farrell, Ronald Harper, and David Serepca, make the prospects for basketball continue to look bright to Coach Bob Burke and his assistant, Kenny Bunker, as they relish the accomplishments of 1984-85 and look forward to hardwood action in 1985-86.

Through hard work, countless hours of practice, and the guidance of an outstanding coach, the matmen posted a season record 10-5. with four members of the team competing for titles in the National Junior College championships at Dupage College in Chicago.

Jim Hibbard, a 126-pound freshman, almost pulled the upset of the national tournament. He led the defending national champion, 5-0, when he was suddenly pinned with 40 seconds left in the match. Hibbard then won twice before losing a $7-6$ decision. One more win and Hibbard would have made the AllAmerican team.

Chris Brock, at 142 pounds, also just missed All-American ranking by being pinned with 30 seconds left in the consolation quarterfinals after leading 4-0.

Dennis Cannon also made it to the consolation quarterfinals and won his first two matches and then went 1-2.

Dan Lewis, at 177 pounds, was eliminated when he lost his first two matches.

The Chowan College wrestling team members saw plenty of action during the season under Coach Mike Moyer. The team had competition against a variety of institutions, including senior colleges such as the University of Virginia and Virginia Tech.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Moyer serves as director of intramural sports and director of Lakeside Student Center. He still provided adequate time for the supervision of his team on and off the mats by supervising a nightly study hall for team members.

The matmen performed well in their academic pursuits during the year as well as on the mats, and this is due to their determination, motivation and desire to succeed in both areas.

A Year of Firsts for the Lady Braves.

The Chowan Lady Braves basketball team made college history in 1984-85, under the direction of Coach Belinda McKeel. For the first time since women's intercollegiate basketball competition was inaugurated at Chowan College, the team won the Eastern Tarheel Conference regular season championship, the East Tarheel Conference Tournament, the Region X championship, and finished among the top sixteen teams in the National Junior College Athletic Association's tournament in Senatobia, Mississippi.
The Lady Braves compiled a very impressive record for the season with a total of 19 victories and 9 losses. In the Eastern Tarheel Conference, the team posted a $7-1$ record and in Region X competition the Lady Braves had nine wins and three losses. Of the nine defeats. three were to four year institutions. The team led Region X in field goal percentage with a 50 per cent mark.
Individual honors were claimed also with Coach Belinda McKeel, in her first year of coaching at Chowan College, was named "Coach of the Year" in the Eastern Tarheel Conference. Matisha Brown, $6^{\prime} 1^{\prime \prime}$ center from Raleigh, was named to the All- Tournament Team, and Sharon Gillard, $5^{\prime \prime} 9^{\prime \prime}$ forward from Cross, S.C., claimed honors as the Conference Tournament's Most Valuable Player.
The season did not appear promising after the Lady Braves had posted a $3-5$ record in competition before the Christmas Holidays. However, after capturing 25 and 39 point wins in a tournament in Hagerstown, Athletic Director James Garrison presents Coach McKeel and the team members a T-shirt signifying competition in the NJCAA tournament.

Maryland, under the leadership of center Matisha Brown, the team began the march to championship trophies and the NJCAA tournament.

Part of the year's success was the ability of the Lady Braves to break opponents' presses. Several team members had the quickness it took to blow past the defensive pressure and move the ball upcourt for a quick bucket.

Depth on the bench was another factor in the basketball success. Coach McKeel could go to the bench and receive quality play from a number of players. Depending upon the needs of the moment, the coach could bring in a "sparkplug", a strong defensive rebounder or some instant defense.

Such bench participation was the case in the Region X tournament when Valerie Boyd went into the title game with two minutes left on the clock and the Lady Braves down by four points. Boyd sank three shots to win the game and send the Lady Braves to Mississippi and the national contest.
In the NJCAA Women's tournament, the Lady Braves first met Orange County Community College and soundly defeated them, $89-51$, to advance in national competition. Hopes for a national championship trophy faded, however, when the team was pitted against the much taller Crowder College Roughriders and were defeated 61-71.
The year was one of "firsts" for the team. A first year coach who excelled in guiding her team; a first conference regular season title; a first conference tournament title; a first Region X title; and, a first trip to the Na tional Junior College Athletic Association's Women's Basketball Tournament.

Coach Mckeel is cheered by her team during a "welcome home" celebration. following the NJCAA tournament in Senatobia Mississippi.

The Lady Braves were escorted by Murfreesboro police to Helms Center and were met by cheering fans. The program featured messages of congratulations from the President of the College. Mayor of Nurfreesboro, the Athletic Director, and Chaplain to the College.

An important part of every game, but one who gets little recognition, is the referee, whose watchful eye keeps the game in check.

Cleo Rollison goes in for an easy lay-up in the contest with Peace college. The Lady Braves defeated the Raleigh visitors in the last game of the regular season.

The lack of spectators, and unfilled seats, did little to hamper the efforts of the Lady Braves during the 1984-85 season when they were making history for women's basketball at Chowan.

High leaping Willy McClease scores a basket from 15 feet out. Such accuracy was one of the key factors in the Lady Braves' successes during the season.

Accuracy at the foul line was another strong point for the history-making team, and Valerie Boyd was among the players who maintained high accuracy with the bonus shots.

Cleo Rollison was left all alone on the court and was able to get an easy shot for the Lady Braves.

Action under the basket enabled the Lady Braves to claim many rebounds, and even when the opponents grabbed the ball, the Lady Braves fought for possession.

Willy McClease drives for a basket in the last contest of the regular season, when the Lady Braves defeated Peace College.

High jumping abilities help the Lady Braves gain victories during the season.

The team spent many hours of practice and drills in order to post a winning season under the direction of Coach Janet Collins.

Allyson Barnes, left, was among the stand-outs in volleyball competition.

Sometimes things just don't go right as is seen by a spike hitting the net.

Women's Softball Team

Mandy Peeples, an outfielder for the Lady Braves, checks the "supplies" of soft drinks in preparation for leaving the campus for an out-of-town game.

Coach
Belinda McKeel

Warm-up practice is important to the Lady Braves, even in the cooler weather of spring time. The team does daily drills in preparation for the tough schedule and the hopes for a winning season.

The pitcher makes the play at first base to make an out for the Lady Braves. The team plays home matches on the field near Helms Center and the baseball field used by the men's squad.

Game time, and the umpires, left, coordinate plans for the contest as the Lady Braves prepare to take to the field.

Where's the other team? Two Lady Braves advance to home and third base on an infield hit, which drew all of the opponent's infielders in close and allowed another Chowan score.

The 1985 Tennis Team

A Special word of appreciation

The publication of THE CHOWANOKA is a tremendous task. Work is required all year long, with the planning, layout, making photographs, writing copy, editing, and all the other things which are required to produce a yearbook. The 1985 CHOWANOKA could not have been published were it not for the valuable help rendered by many, many people of the Chouan community. To all these people . . THANK YOU.'

The staff owes a tremendous debt of gratitude to the faculty and students of the Department of Graphic Communications for the typesetting, mechanical preparation, camera work, platemaking, printing, folding, and collating this volume. To these valuable people. . a SPECIAL THANK YOU!.!'!

Computer Center now open; CIS curriculum introduced

The Department of Business has introduced its new computer Information systems curriculum in 1984.85.

The Campus Computer Center is housed in renovated Mchweeney llall and provides four labs, three classronms and faculty offices.

First year courses will be offered during 1984.85 and the full two-yeat program the following year.

"Growing Field"

Jean of the college B. Franklin Lowe. Jr. commented, "For those students who want in major in the field, a comprebensive program will be offered. Of course, this is one of the most popular and growing fields."

Or. Lowe said the curriculum will prepare students for either transfer to a senior college to continue their computer studies or employment opportunities. He said non-magors will have the opportunity to take computer introductory courses 'because there is a growing need for students to becomputer literate.

The Computer Information Systems courses include: Data En.
try. 1 semester hour. Introduction to Computers, 3 hours: Computer Programmung. Basic, 3; Computer I'rogramming COBOL I. 3: Computer Programming, COBOL 11, 3. Computer Programming, Business ForTRAN. 2: Systems Analysis and Design, 2; and Computer Programming Applications. 3.
The Computer courses are beong taught hy Professors Hat tie Jones, Hupe Vinson Clark, and (ieorge Hazeloon.

"I knew college would make your hair fall out, but I didn't know it would make your arms fall off?'

"What's a waterballoon between two friends?"

"I was in until they saw my SAT scores.

"I'm no chicken, I gave blood... What do you mean the bag busted 20 minutes ago?"

After we had struggled frantically to reach a deadline for a psychology assignment, I saw my friend clip a piece of paper to her essay. She let me read her note to the instructor: "Take pity-I'm Jung and easily Freudened."

Aboard the ferry that travels between Woods Hole, Mass., and Martha's Vineyard, most passengers ride the top deck to enjoy the view and the sun. College students earn money during the summer by selling cold drinks. Each server displays an additional plastic cup on his tray that is clearly marked "Tips." Except one I saw last summer: it was unmistakenly labeled "Tuition."

Each week during the football season, the student-supply store on the lowa State campus in Ames puts a big sign in its front window saying "Splatter Oklahoma" or "Beat Kansas" and so on, depending on the name of the Cyclones' upcoming foe. Before Iowa State was shelled $72-29$ in the fall of 1983 by the nation's top-ranked team, the sign was worded a bit differently. It said: "Maintain Dignity Against Nebraska."
I was attending a fraternity dance and felt elegant in a formal gown. My escort and I were starting down the staircase to the dance floor when I suddenly caught a spike heel on my long skirt. I fell and rolled the full length of the carpeted stepsmy date running beside me, unable to halt my precipitous tumble.
In the dead silence that ensued, I stood up, unhurt, and straightened myself out. My quick-witted companion whipped out a $$ 20$ bill. Offering it to me, he said loudly, "You win, Grace. I didn't think you'd have nerve enough to do it."
I was the belle of the ball.
Our Western Civilization class listened intently as the professor recalled the sad tale of Pheidippides, a hero of ancient Greece. To get aid for his countrymen, who were about to battle Persian invaders on the plain of Marathon, he ran 150 miles to Sparta. When the Spartans said they couldn't help, he ran all the way back to Marathon and joined the battle. After victory had been assured the Greeks, he raced 26 miles to Athens (establishing today's marathon distance) to deliver the good news-and then collapsed and died.
The class sat quietly for a moment before a young man raised his hand. "Did they get his time?" he asked.
A friend of mine had a crush on one of the prettiest women in the freshman class. He was in two courses with her, but could never introduce himself. One day in the cafeteria he ended up standing in line right behind her. Because he felt so self-conscious, his voice froze, and as they moved along the serving counter he felt yet another opportunity slipping away.
Suddenly the girl turned to him and pointed at a selection. "Do you know what that is?" she asked.
"Y-yes," he replied, "that's Don MacKensie. Hi, I'm macaroni salad.'

Many events and changes took place in the Chowan Year, 198485, and it will take much more than the space allotted to list them all. It was a year that many dreams began, and a year when many past dreams became realities, and we remember on this page just a few of the Chowan Year events. - Three snows hit Murfreesborò and turned the campus into a winter wonderland - The first woman ever was nominated as a candidate for office of Vice President of the United States - Benny Hill turned sixty years old - Jill Wells was crowned Homecoming Queen - An addition was made to Green Hall to provide more space for the Art programs - The Feasibility Study Committee concluded its research as to four-year status for the college and the Board of Trustees voted to continue Chowan as a two-year institution - Jenkins Hall got a new Resident Director - McSweeney Hall was completely renovated and was opened as a new Computer Center - The Board of Trustees approved an $$ 8$ million budget for the college - Eddie Murphy, popular movie actor, made a comeback with a new release - Professor David Parker painted a masterpiece of McDowell Columns which was hung in that building - The Professors Emerti were honored on Founder's Day - Alisa Christian was elected President of the Freshman Class • The "coach" of television's "Cheers" program died and was missed by the many students who watched the show regularly - Work was begun on the renovation of Simons Hall - Earl Dilday returned to his old position as Associate Dean of Students - The United States Olympic teams captured many gold and silver metals in competition - The Braves basketball team won 25 games in regular season play for the first time ever and was undefeated in Helms Center - Parent's Day was successful as usual - "You Can't Take It With You" and "Li'l Abner" were well presented by the Chowan Players - Work was started on the construction of a MacDonald's in downtown Murfreesboro - Much more happened in 84-85, but, most of all, dreams were formulated and work was to begun to bring tomorrow's realities.
